

Abstract

This invention relates to novel acylamino cyclopropane derivatives, processes for their preparation, pharmaceutical compositions containing them and their use as modulators of dopamine D3 receptors and for the treatment of anxiety, psychosis, substance abuse, 5 Parkinson's disease, sexual dysfunction, and other central nervous system disorders.